

Weird Tri-Cities: Haunted Washington County, Tennessee

Read about the ghosts of East Tennessee State University (ETSU), Veterans Affairs (VA), the ghosts of a nursing home fire that still wave for help from the old building, the ghost of a bootlegger on church steps in Jonesborough, the ghost of Andrew Jackson often sighted in Jonesborough, ghosts of ladies of the evening that still haunt a bed and breakfast, a former nursing home employee that still checks on residents and many, many more haunted places in Washington County, Tennessee. Also read about big fish and large serpent-like creature of Boone Lake and a strange walking feline called Wampus Cat once sighted in downtown Johnson City. This book goes into depth about the once infamous Swingle Mansion and the Nolichucky Witch.
